

The page is decorated with several botanical illustrations. At the top left, a branch has a green leaf and a small red flower. Next to it is a cluster of dark blueberries. To the right, a branch with several green leaves is shown. Below the title, on the right, is a bright yellow dandelion-like flower. At the bottom, there are more branches: one with large green leaves, another with a cluster of red berries and green leaves, and a third with a small white flower and green leaves.
